

the Chilli Pickle

Choosing the right drinks selection is no easy process and particularly when it needs to stand up to the complexities of Indian food. We hope you like our choices.

WINE

There's still a lingering myth that curry and wine don't mix, but we're here to prove otherwise. With their bright fruit and natural acidity, wines can complement the complexity of our spicing beautifully.

So how have we approached our wine list? We've arranged it by style starting with the lightest, purest, most delicate bottles and moving through to the heartiest, fullest, and most robust.

If you spot something familiar, go for it! Or why not try something new, knowing it's a close companion in style to what you already enjoy? Every wine on our list is available by the glass. If you'd like to sample anything, just ask a member of the team - we're always happy to pour you a taste.

BEER

When a cold beer is the order of the day we have a diverse selection of beers. You will see that Alun's time spent in Bavaria wasn't wasted, but nobody can deny an IPA paired with Indian Food is something to be cherished.
